“Okay... let’s see if we can put something in place (for the time being) that makes [the current situation] work....

Things are going to change drastically in the next year – the policies are being scrutinized and much of that will change with the implementation of electronic newsletters at the Kingdom level.

So, for now, IF a local newsletter has an electronic newsletter which does NOT charge for the print copies (or doesn’t have any print copies) then they will NOT need to adhere to the more demanding/strict release policies.” --Honor

In other words, submit under the old rules.
